EMAIL 1 — HOW TO PLAN A BEAUTIFUL WEDDING WITHOUT GOING OVER BUDGET

Subject: A beautiful wedding doesn't need a huge budget 💍

Preview Text: Simple ways to make your wedding budget go further without sacrificing what matters.

Hi there,

Planning a wedding can be exciting, but watching the costs add up? Not quite so exciting!

Here's something worth remembering:

A beautiful wedding isn't about how much you spend. It's about what matters most to you.

One of the smartest things you can do is choose your top three wedding priorities before making major bookings.

Maybe it's having a wonderful photographer, celebrating with all your closest friends or finding a venue you absolutely love.

Once you've identified those priorities, it becomes easier to save money on the things that matter less.

For example, you could:

- Choose seasonal flowers instead of elaborate arrangements.
- Keep your guest list manageable.
- Use coordinated printable wedding stationery.

- Take advantage of decorations already included at your venue.
- Avoid purchasing extras simply because they're popular.

Small decisions can make a surprisingly big difference.

I've put together a practical guide with more ideas for creating a beautiful wedding without overspending.

Remember, the goal isn't to impress everyone with an expensive celebration.

It's to create a day you'll genuinely enjoy.

EMAIL 2 — 15 HIDDEN WEDDING COSTS COUPLES OFTEN FORGET

Subject: 15 wedding expenses you might be forgetting 💸

Preview Text: These easily overlooked wedding costs can add up faster than expected.

Hi there,

Quick question...

When you created your wedding budget, did you remember to include outfit alterations, invitation postage and supplier travel expenses?

Don't worry if you didn't.

These are exactly the kinds of smaller wedding expenses that can get overlooked.

Most couples remember the major costs, such as the venue, catering and photography.

But there are plenty of additional expenses that might not appear in the original quotations.

A few examples include:

- Wedding outfit alterations
- Hair and makeup trials
- Cake delivery charges
- Venue cleaning fees

- Additional photography hours
- Supplier meals
- Transport overtime

Not every charge will apply to your wedding, but it's worth checking.

Here's a useful tip: Before booking any supplier, ask for a complete written breakdown of what's included and what might cost extra.

That one question could help you avoid an unpleasant surprise later.

I've put together a guide covering 15 hidden wedding costs, along with practical advice for preparing for them.

A little extra planning now can save a lot of stress as your wedding approaches.

EMAIL 3 — THE ULTIMATE 12-MONTH WEDDING PLANNING TIMELINE

Subject: Just engaged? Here's your 12-month wedding plan 🗓️

Preview Text: Know what to organise each month without feeling overwhelmed.

Hi there,

If you've recently started planning your wedding, you might already be wondering:

Where on earth do we start?

There's the venue, guest list, invitations, outfits, suppliers, decorations and about a hundred other decisions waiting to be made.

But here's the good news.

You don't need to organise everything at once.

One of the easiest ways to make wedding planning manageable is to break it into monthly stages.

For example:

12 months before: Set your budget, discuss guest numbers and start researching venues.

9 months before: Focus on important suppliers and begin exploring outfits.

6 months before: Review stationery, decorations and remaining arrangements.

3 months before: Check invitations, guest responses and practical details.

Final month: Confirm suppliers, payments, seating arrangements and your wedding day schedule.

These are flexible guidelines rather than fixed deadlines, but they give you a useful starting point.

I've created a complete 12-month wedding planning timeline with practical tasks and checklists for every stage.

Take a look here:

Remember, wedding planning should be exciting, not a constant race against the clock.

Take things one step at a time.

EMAIL 4 — HOW TO CHOOSE THE PERFECT WEDDING VENUE

Subject: Before booking your wedding venue, read this 🏰

Preview Text: Important questions to ask before paying your venue deposit.

Hi there,

Finding the perfect wedding venue is one of the most exciting parts of planning your celebration.

You walk into a beautiful room, imagine your guests celebrating and suddenly think:

This is the one!

But before paying a deposit, there are a few important things worth checking.

A venue needs to be more than beautiful.

It also needs to suit your budget, guest numbers and practical requirements.

Here are five questions to ask:

1. What's included in the quoted price?

Check whether furniture, catering, staffing, setup and cleaning are included.

2. How many guests can the venue comfortably accommodate?

Ask about both ceremony and reception capacity.

3. What happens if the weather changes?

This is particularly important for outdoor weddings.

4. Are there restrictions on suppliers or decorations?

Some venues have preferred supplier arrangements or specific rules.

5. What are the cancellation and postponement terms?

Make sure you understand the agreement before committing.

I've put together a complete wedding venue selection guide covering these questions and plenty more.

EMAIL 5 — WEDDING GUEST LIST PLANNING: WHO TO INVITE AND HOW TO DECIDE

Subject: The wedding guest list dilemma... who makes the cut? 💌

Preview Text: A simple way to decide who to invite without unnecessary guilt.

Hi there,

Let's talk about one of the trickiest parts of wedding planning.

The guest list!

At first, it sounds easy.

Invite your family, your closest friends and everyone you'd love to celebrate with.

Then the questions begin.

Should you invite distant cousins?

What about work colleagues?

Are children included?

Does everyone get a plus-one?

And what happens when family members want to invite people you barely know?

Here's a simple approach that can help.

Divide your potential guests into three groups:

Group A: People you definitely want at your wedding.

Group B: People you'd love to invite if space and budget allow.

Group C: Optional guests you feel less strongly about inviting.

Start with Group A, then work through the remaining groups based on your venue capacity and budget.

Most importantly, remember this:

Your wedding guest list should reflect the celebration you want to create.

You don't need to invite everyone simply because you feel obligated.

I've written a practical guide covering guest list decisions, plus-ones, children and family expectations.

EMAIL 6 — 10 WEDDING PLANNING MISTAKES AND HOW TO AVOID THEM

Subject: 10 wedding planning mistakes worth avoiding ⚠

Preview Text: Avoid unnecessary spending, last-minute problems and wedding planning stress.

Hi there,

Nobody starts planning a wedding intending to make expensive mistakes.

But when you're organising a celebration for the first time, it's easy to overlook something important.

The good news?

Many common wedding planning mistakes are completely avoidable.

Here are three worth watching out for.

Mistake 1: Booking before setting your budget.

It's easy to fall in love with a venue or supplier before considering how much money you'll need for everything else.

Mistake 2: Forgetting about additional charges.

Delivery, travel, setup, alterations and other smaller expenses can add up.

Mistake 3: Creating an unrealistic wedding day schedule.

Trying to squeeze too many activities into a short period can make the celebration feel rushed.

A little preparation can help prevent all three.

And there are several other mistakes couples can avoid with sensible planning.

I've put together a guide covering ten common wedding planning mistakes, with practical advice for handling each one.

Remember, your wedding doesn't need to be perfect to be wonderful.

The goal is to plan thoughtfully, stay within your means and enjoy the experience.

EMAIL 7 — HOW TO CHOOSE WEDDING SUPPLIERS WITHOUT GETTING OVERWHELMED

Subject: Choosing wedding suppliers? Ask these questions first 💍

Preview Text: How to compare photographers, caterers and other wedding professionals confidently.

Hi there,

Finding wedding suppliers can feel like a full-time job!

There are photographers, florists, caterers, entertainers and plenty of other professionals to research.

Each one offers different packages, prices and services.

So how do you choose without getting overwhelmed?

Here's one simple tip:

Compare the complete service, not just the advertised price.

For example, two photographers might have similar starting prices.

But one package may include additional coverage, while another might charge extra for travel or a printed album.

Before booking, ask:

- What's included in the price?
- Are there additional charges?
- How much deposit is required?
- When is the final payment due?
- What happens if plans change?
- Will everything be confirmed in writing?

Clear answers can help you make better decisions.

I've created a complete guide to researching, comparing and booking wedding suppliers.

It includes useful questions, contract tips and a practical supplier checklist.

EMAIL 8 — WEDDING DAY TIMELINES: HOW TO KEEP EVERYTHING RUNNING SMOOTHLY

Subject: The secret to a relaxed wedding day? A good timeline ⏰

Preview Text: Create a wedding day schedule that keeps everything organised without feeling rushed.

Hi there,

Imagine this.

Your wedding morning is going beautifully.

Then hair and makeup take longer than expected.

Transport arrives late.

The group photographs run over schedule.

Suddenly, everyone is rushing!

While you can't prevent every delay, a realistic wedding day timeline can make a huge difference.

The secret isn't scheduling every minute.

It's allowing enough time for the important moments.

Start with your fixed arrangements, such as:

- Ceremony start time
- Venue access times
- Wedding meal
- Evening entertainment
- Venue closing time

Then work around them.

Allow time for getting ready, travelling, photographs and moving between activities.

And don't forget to include a little flexibility.

I've put together a complete wedding day timeline guide with a sample schedule and practical checklist.

Read it here:

One final tip: appoint someone you trust to handle practical questions on the day.

That way, you can concentrate on enjoying your celebration rather than constantly checking the clock.

EMAIL 9 — HOW TO CREATE A WEDDING THAT FEELS PERSONAL AND UNIQUE

Subject: Your wedding should feel like YOU ❤

Preview Text: Meaningful wedding ideas that don't require a huge budget.

Hi there,

Have you noticed how many weddings online seem to follow the same trends?

The same decorations.

The same colours.

The same activities.

There's nothing wrong with taking inspiration from beautiful weddings, of course.

But here's something worth remembering.

Your wedding doesn't need to look like anyone else's.

Some of the most memorable celebrations include simple details that reflect the couple's story.

For example:

💕 A first dance song connected to a special memory.

📸 A display of photographs from your relationship.

🌸 Table names inspired by places you've visited together.

🍰 A favourite family dessert.

💌 A guest book filled with personal messages and advice.

These details don't necessarily cost much, but they can make the celebration feel incredibly meaningful.

I've put together a guide filled with personal wedding ideas, including ceremony details, decorations, music and guest experiences.

Discover the ideas here:

You don't need expensive extras or elaborate traditions to create something special.

Sometimes the smallest touches tell the biggest story.

EMAIL 10 — THE FINAL 30 DAYS BEFORE YOUR WEDDING: EVERYTHING TO REMEMBER

Subject: 30 days until your wedding? Here's what to remember! 💍

Preview Text: Your final wedding month checklist to help everything run smoothly.

Hi there,

The countdown is officially on!

If your wedding is only a month away, you're probably feeling a mixture of excitement, anticipation and maybe a little nervousness.

After months of planning, the big day is almost here.

But there are still a few important things to organise.

During the final 30 days, focus on confirming the arrangements you've already made rather than starting lots of new projects.

Here are some of the essentials:

Four weeks before:
Review supplier bookings, outstanding payments and guest responses.

Three weeks before:
Finalise seating arrangements, check outfits and review your wedding day schedule.

Two weeks before:
Confirm transport, ceremony details and prepare a small emergency kit.

Final week:
Pack wedding supplies, organise important documents and complete any essential outstanding tasks.

And in the last couple of days?

Try to relax!

You've already done an enormous amount of work.

I've created a complete final 30-day wedding checklist with practical weekly tasks to help you stay organised.
